

Ingrid Burkett- Forresters, Australia

Dr. Ingrid Burkett is the Social Innovations Manager for Foresters. She has practiced, taught, researched and written about community economic development for over 15 years, both locally and internationally.

She has also worked across government, community and corporate sectors, and taught community economic development at the University of Queensland for eight years. Ingrid is the Oceania representative on the board of the International Association for Community Development and is recognised as one of Australia's experts in the fields of community and micro finance.