

Lynn Lawton – Depot Artspace’s Pathways to Arts and Cultural Employment Programme

Lynn is manager of the Depot Artspace’s Pathways to Arts and Cultural Employment programme (PACE) working with a team of arts facilitators to provide career guidance and mentoring to artists seeking employment and self employment in the creative sector.

Over the past six years Lynn has initiated workshops and professional development programmes which assist artists to pursue their career path. He has worked with the Depot’s Creative Coordinator, Linda Blincko, to develop prototype artist apprenticeships in the visual arts, graphic and website design. Lynn is also part of the Depot management team. The Depot is a multi disciplinary arts centre providing exhibition spaces, recording studio and rehearsal spaces, internet radio, graphic design services and an arts law and resource centre website for creative people (Creative People Centre).
