

Raymond Dart

Ray Dart is an Associate Professor - Business Administration Program at Trent University in Peterborough, Canada. Ray works in social enterprise and the CED area in Canada, and has been working with the Canadian Social Economy Network over the past two years, mostly putting together a profile of Ontario social purpose businesses and social enterprises (probably the first profile of a whole population of these organizations ever done in Canada).

Ray has worked with a number of successful and unsuccessful Canadian CED and social enterprise organisations and undertaken research into their sustainability.
