

Steve Knapp

Steve Knapp is the founding Executive Director of Fairtrade Australia and New Zealand. Fairtrade is a market based development initiative that uses supply chain standards and certification to delivery community development and economic empowerment of disadvantaged farmers and workers in the developing world. Steve also sits on the Fairtrade International Board of Directors.

Originally from the UK, Steve has a social and commercial business background. Before Fairtrade he was the owner and Managing Director of a commodity trading company, a corporate executive and the Executive Director of one of the first specialised social enterprise support agencies in the UK. He graduated from the London School of Economics and Post Grad Development Studies from Victoria University Wellington.
